“ From what I’ve seen of the bands of the '70s and '80s, they pretty much sucked.”

“ Rock 'n' roll is about compromise. It's about smart people and stupid people, inventors and reactionaries, science and fantasy. It's about ambition and caution, the snob and the square. It's about politics.” “ In most situations, most of the time, the people in charge are all right.” “ The only reason to be a rock'n'roll fan is to experience the thrill of discovering new things every day.” “ What you see is what you get. What you don't see, you don't hear. What you don't hear, you don't know.” “ Loving someone is not always enough. Sometimes it is more important to respect them.” “ The best way to know what the next person thinks is to ask him/her.” “ Be a stranger on a journey through the world.” “ Rock and roll is genuine, and it only exists because people like that which it represents.” “ Rock and roll is important because it's essential to being alive.” “ Rock and roll is a transition not a style.” “ Good rock'n'roll is a mix of the senses.” “ Music is a kind of prayer, and you're not easily satisfied with anything less than total prayer.” “ The mere act of playing makes a link between performer and audience. The music has something to say to everybody, because everybody has something to say to it.” “ Art is that rarest of gifts -- it has no negative power and nobody has to like it.” “ The music didn't make me what I am -- I made the music.” “ You don't have to like what you like or even understand it. You don't have to get it. You don't even have to like it. It's a natural, automatic response. If you respond, fine. If you don't, fine. As long as you're not brutalizing people.” “ A good song lasts forever -- a bad song is immortal.” “ People
